Instructions

Couldn't you use more Faith today?

Hi, I'm Glorious the Magic Genie Faith Builder. I'm here to give you instructions on how to build your Faith and feel more secure. I am here to show you how to use your one of a kind, Faith-building, collectible, Faith-based intangible Magic Pill. First let's go over some important directions and instructions, then I'll give you some self-help tips. Then when you're totally enthralled with what I have to tell you I will hit you with my Faith-building sales pitch. Yes there is more. There is always more to this Faith-building stuff.

DO NOT SWALLOW THIS MAGIC PILL UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCE.

It's an intangible collectible anyway. It is faith-based. This pill is not a placebo or a panacea. It will only work for you if you believe that it will. Finding the Faith to believe in God will make this symbol of your newfound Faith work like magic. Isn't that wonderful? Isn't that amazing?

DO NOT TAKE THIS PILL TOO SERIOUSLY.

It is only a symbol of your newfound Faith

DO NOT TAKE THIS PILL TOO LIGHTLY.

It can help you find the Magic of Faith.

DO NOT WORRY ABOUT ME BEING AN ANOMOLY.

I am simply a fictional figment of your imagination; you do have one, don't you?

READ THESE INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY.

Stop looking at the picture of the Magic Pill on the top of the instructions. It is only a representation of your newfound Faith. The real pill is intangible just like your Faith. It is simply a symbol of your Faith. I infused it with my Faith if you can believe that. When you infuse it with your Faith and fill out the Certificate of Sharing attached to the instructions by writing an Expression of Faith on it, and posting it on my Web site if you wish, it will become a unique collectible. You are a unique person, aren't you?

INFUSE YOUR MAGIC PILL WITH YOUR EXPRESSION OF FAITH.

The Magic Pill can become a true symbol of your newfound Faith. Make notes on how your Faith is growing every day and the important acts of Faith that you are starting to do. Be sure to infuse your Magic Pill with your Expression of Faith. It will help make your Faith grow stronger. It will help make you feel wonderful.

Learn how to post an Expression of your Faith on my Web site. You could become a famous author. You can do this on my Web site – www.faith123.com.

ALWAYS REMEMBER THERE ARE NO QUICK FIXES.

The only real magic is the miracle of your Faith. I Glorious, Magic Genie, am only as real as your Faith will allow me to be. I am only a symbol and so is the Magic Pill. You and your Faith are the real thing, so there.

BELIEVE IN GOD.

You need to have Faith in these troubled times we live in. You need to feel more secure. To do this you must believe in God. You must have Faith in the Almighty and the future.

Now let's turn to some self-help suggestions that will help you build your Faith. We can't spend the rest of our lives going over instructions. Well, I could, I go on forever. We have to have Faith and learn to live without fear. Whatever you do -- have a sense of humor -- Faith building can be stressful.

SELF-HELP SUGGESTIONS:

If you have little Faith don't be afraid. I'm here to help you build your Faith. If you have no Faith you have still come to the right place. I'm used to dealing with arrogant stubborn types like you. Think about your children, if you have any, or someone you really love. You want them to benefit from your Faith don't you? If you have no children, no family and no one you love, you better really concentrate on this Faith Building stuff. You need it more than most people.

"No Mister, I am not being snide and sarcastic. I am only a figment of your imagination. It must be you that is snide and sarcastic. Think about that for a moment. You do think, don't you? Sorry young lady, I got your thoughts confused with that young man's."

Faith building is a matter of taking a number of small steps to help you build your confidence and your Faith. Start by trying to make one small act of Faith. It may be as simple a thing as taking someone's word for something who you really don't trust. Try taking my word for example. Oh yes, I know you are skeptical. I can read your mind. I'm a Magic Gene who is almost perfect. I have all kinds of powers.

Stop living in fear. Stop being so insecure. Stop worrying about terrorists and other things you can't control. Only God can determine what will happen. Have Faith that the Almighty will look after us. There really is no choice. Would you rather rely on his mercy or your ability to cope with these troubles alone? You might stand a better chance if you were his Faithful servant. You have to try and help yourself or this won't work. Repeat after me, "I will have Faith, I will have Faith, I will have Faith." It's OK to say this out loud. Don't be ashamed to let other people know that you are building your Faith in God. Don't ever be embarrassed about trying to have more Faith -- express yourself.

Think of some simple act of Faith. Every morning when you wake up take a moment to think of some simple act of Faith you can make today. It wouldn't hurt to pray a little too. I know you are going to ask me what to say. I'm a Magic Genie, not a human being. Anyway I simply say, "Please dear God help me to have Faith in you and myself so I can be a better Genie, do good works, and take care of my family." Whatever works for you is OK. Try and stay away from phrases like -- I want -- I need -- I must have and -- please give me. It makes you sound selfish and insecure. If you're wondering, yes I have a family. You can read all about it in my book The Magic of Faith. You could learn a lot about finding your Faith in my book. It's Faith building made easy. It could make you feel truly wonderful.

What's that you say, you don't feel so good? Stop that self-pity stuff. Read my book. Touch the Magic Pill. Infuse it with your newfound Faith. Remember you are a good person.

There are certain Faith building exercises that you can do to make your transition to a person of Faith easier.

1. Try caring about someone else, it will take your mind off thinking only about your own self-interest.
2. Try being patient. When you are about to yell at someone remember that you now have enough Faith to be more understanding.
3. Try and smile at people. People of good Faith are happy people.
4. Try and believe that things will get better. If you believe and have Faith, they will.
5. Try not to feel self-pity. This is the tough love version of Faith building. No one has it easy. No one gets a free pass. You have to work to build your Faith. There are no quick fixes. The only Real Magic is the Miracle of your Faith and this Magic Pill of course.
6. Try to be kind to others. That's the start of being a Faithful human being, one who believes in the basic goodness of their fellow man, woman, or child. Yes I know, sometimes it's hard to be kind to your kids when they are acting like little devils. God forgive me for using that name. Sometimes I use Capitals for emphasis, but never when it comes to the 'd' word.
7. Try not to rely totally on the Magic Pill. It is only a symbol of your Faith. It's how you feel and how you act and what you do that counts. That's enough exercising for now, I am getting tired. How about you? Could you use a rest? Too bad, there is no rest for the Faithful. You have to be building your Faith constantly, but at least you will have peace of mind. Remember that you are a worthwhile person. You are entitled to have Faith. You are entitled to feel good. All you have to do is to learn how to express your Faith.

Let's go on to some specific lessons. This is starting to be fun don't you think?

Lesson Number 1.

Always remember to be thankful for what you have. You had enough Faith to get the Magic Pill, didn't you? When used in conjunction with my book "The Magic of Faith" it will give you the kind of intellectual wealth that can help you accumulate a bundle of Faith-based assets. Tell your friends they can do this too if they just buy my book The "Magic of Faith" and get the Magic Pill Collectible.

Yes my friends, even Magic Genies are capable of crass commercialism. That's because of all the time we spend roaming around in your minds. It's obviously a contagious disease that you have. Stop thinking only about money. Start having some Faith in the virtue of being a decent, caring, unselfish person.

Are you starting to get the hang of this or do you feel like some leftover frankfurter from yesterday's barbecue? Stop stuffing your face and start feeding your soul a steady diet of Faith. I told you this wasn't going to be easy. You have to try getting enough Faith to stop some of your bad habits.

Lesson Number 2

One of you collectible collectors wanted to know if he could use a patch to help him stop his bad habit of smoking. I am telling you people to stop trying to patch yourselves together and have enough Faith to do it yourself. This is a do it yourself, self-help, Faith-building scenario. That's from my book. It will do a lot to help you build your Faith. You can browse it on my Web site www.faith123.com.

I am sometimes irrepresible, irascible and irreverent in my desire to help you build your Faith. I apologize if you think I'm irritable. It's your attitude we have got to change. After all I come from your mind, don't I? I am only a figment of your imagination.

I guess that's enough lessons for now. Let's go on to some sage sayings that will teach you by example. Guess where they are from. But before we move on, don't forget to infuse your Magic Pill with your newfound Faith

Who is smarter and better?

If someone tells you he is smarter than you are refer him or her to me. Tell them that you are too smart to get trapped into a contest with an intellectual noncombatant. Tell them to think to me. I will show them the error of their ways. I will help you and them build your Faith so that you don't have to try to outsmart each other in order to determine who the better person is. Tell them I am definitely the better Genie -- there is no contest. Stop these games. Concentrate on building your Faith.

Sharing your Faith.

If a stranger comes over to you and asks you to help him find his Faith, tell him you will be glad to. Tell him you will be happy to search for it together. The more together you are the better chance you have of finding your Faith -- shape up.

Don't be scared.

Don't be traumatized by terror alerts. They are meant to help protect you not to have you shaking in fear in the corner of your bedroom. Go out and get a life. Have some Faith. That way the bad guys will not have won. Who has more Faith you or the terrorists? If you do we win. At least we have the courage to try and live a better life and find a better way. Don't try and color code your emotions. Faith doesn't come in colors.

Just have Faith in God.

A lot of you Magic Pill collectors have been thinking to me while I was Wooshing around in the clouds about organized religions verses the do it yourself versions of Faith building. Wooshing by the way is the act of spinning around in all directions at the same time so I can see what you're thinking. Don't try it. It is not for humans. You have a body, I don't. Yours will get in the way. Anyhow, I am a nonsectarian Genie. I don't care what religion you belong to as long as you have Faith. Each person must choose their own path. Usually it helps to follow family tradition, but you humans have such varied traditions it gets me confused. Don't be confused, just have Faith in God. The rest will work itself out. Yes, I spell Wooshing strangely. I am a little strange to begin with don't you think? Stop being an English teacher and concentrate on building your Faith. You don't communicate with the Almighty in writing. It's what you feel in your heart that counts.

Sometimes Ranting helps.

Let's get specific. All this rambling is distracting me from ranting. Ranting is what I do best. With me it's a spiritual thing. It's how I replenish my spirit. Working with all you crazy mixed up humans requires a lot of replenishing and thus ranting. Are you following this? Do you understand anything I say? What's the matter with you? There, I feel better already, how about you?

Don't hide from the truth.

One of you numbskulls spiritgrammed me that I shouldn't be so sarcastic and nasty. Identify yourself Sir. Stop hiding behind empty slogans. Do you hide from the truth? Are you cloaking yourself in meaningless criticism of others? Open up and let the light shine in. You don't have to guard yourself against believing and having Faith as if it's a weakness. It is probably your greatest strength. Show it off. Tell the truth, you are starting to feel better already aren't you?

Stop worrying.

Stop saying, "I'm worried, I'm scared." What are you worried about? All that can happen is you will have an opportunity to get closer to God. Is that what all you mortality freaks are worried about? Stop worrying, you are wasting precious time. You only have a certain amount in this lifetime. Afterwards you have forever like me. See what you have to look forward to. Isn't it wonderful? Relax, be happy and have Faith. Don't worry that you want to have Faith because you are scared or want to find more meaning to your life -- something to rely on. It's okay. It's only natural. Most people need to have Faith in order to believe in a brighter future.

Do your best.

Don't use your Faith as a crutch. You can always rely on God, but you have to do the best you can to improve your own life. That's why God made us thinking human beings. We can help determine our own future. We can reason.

Don't try and judge.

Don't try and analysis why the Almighty lets certain things happen. It is not for us to sit in judgement. It is our job to have Faith that there is a higher meaning to what happens then we have the capacity to understand.

Do good works.

Do try and do good works and be charitable. It may make you feel truly wonderful. It will certainly get your mind off thinking only about your own self-interest.

Stop procrastinating.

Do plan the acts of Faith you will do to help you have more Faith, and then be sure to do them. Stop procrastinating. Having more Faith begins today, right now, immediately! Get to work. Do something worthwhile with your life. Try, I can't do this all by myself.

Share your Faith.

Tell the people you love and who are closest to that you are trying to get more Faith. Tell them that you could use their help in finding your Faith. Ask them to share your search with you. Offer to share your newfound Faith with them. Remember that having Faith is a highly individual thing. Each person has the right to make this journey to a more Faithful existence in his or her own way.

Believe.

What ever you do, believe. You need to. You want to. If you want to find peace of mind, you have to. And always remember it can make you feel truly wonderful. It can be a new beginning. It can be the key to a better future. Deep down inside, we all have Faith. Deep down inside, I know you are a good and worthwhile person. Faithful people don't have to lie and they don't have to worry. They don't live in fear. They don't have to. They have God on their side. They have Faith.

EXPRESSIONS OF FAITH.

Are you accumulating a record of your Expressions of Faith? I hope so. I have prepared a Certificate of Sharing for you to fill out, and to post on my Web site and memorialize them forever. Filling out your certificate and posting your expression of Faith on my Web site could provide you with a way to acknowledge, authenticate, and validate your newfound Faith. You could become a famous published author. See I told you I would help you with this. I have lots of forms for all kinds of things that will help you build your Faith. I love doing forms. I guess that's because I am almost formless perfection. But you're not, so shape up, fill out your certificate, and post an Expression of Faith on my Web site. Join the Faith Brigade Club – membership is free. You can do all of this on my Web site and read about my book "The Magic of Faith" at the same time. Isn't that wonderful? You do want to declare yourself a person of Faith, don't you?
